St George's Parish Prayers

Sunday, 1 November 2026 | All Saints' Sunday

God of all generations,

Today, as we remember the saints who have gone before us, we thank you for the ordinary people whose faith has made a difference in our lives. For those who taught us to pray, who showed us kindness when we needed it, and who remained faithful through difficult times. Remind us that holiness is not reserved for a special few, but is found in the everyday choices to love, forgive, serve and do what is right.

God of creation,

In the heat of our Lowveld summer, we thank you for the beauty and abundance of the natural world around us. We remember those who work outdoors in difficult conditions, those whose livelihoods depend upon the land, and communities where access to clean water remains a daily challenge. Help us to use the resources you have given us responsibly, to appreciate what we so easily take for granted, and to care for those who are particularly vulnerable during these hot summer months.

Heavenly Father,

We thank you for Mark and his ministry among us at St George's. As he shares in the joys and difficulties of parish life, may he find encouragement in the people he serves and in the friendships that sustain him. Help us to remember that the life of this church is a responsibility we share, and that we too have a part to play in its growth and wellbeing. We remember Rowena and their family with gratitude for the part they play in our parish community.

Gracious God,

We bring before you Thabo, our Metropolitan, and Wayne, our Bishop. Grant them strength and peace as they lead and serve your Church.

> Lord, in your mercy,
> All: Hear our prayers.

God of justice and compassion,

We pray for the women and children of South Africa who live with violence, abuse and fear. We ask not only for protection, but for a society where their safety and dignity are taken seriously. Strengthen those who offer shelter, counselling and justice. Challenge the attitudes that allow abuse to continue, and give us the courage to speak and act when silence would be easier.

God of our nation,

We bring South Africa before you, with its great potential and its deep divisions. We pray for leaders who will place service above personal gain, for institutions that uphold what is right, and for communities tired of promises that bring little change. Help us not to surrender to cynicism, but to recognise the good that can still be accomplished through honesty, cooperation and care for one another.

> Lord, in your mercy,
> All: Hear our prayers.

Provider God,

We pray for those in White River and the surrounding communities who are struggling to make ends meet. For people searching for work, for parents worried about how they will provide for their children, and for the elderly trying to manage on too little. Preserve their dignity and renew their hope. Open our eyes to the needs we pass each day, and show us where our generosity can make a difference.

God of the young,

As examinations and the end of the school year approach, we remember the young people of our community. For those carrying the pressure of expectations, those anxious about their futures, and those who have not had the opportunities others enjoy. Give them confidence, perseverance and people who believe in them. Help us to be a community that encourages and supports its young people.

God of peace,

We pray for homes where relationships are strained and conversations have become difficult. For families divided by misunderstanding, for marriages under pressure, and for those who carry hurt that others cannot see. Where reconciliation is possible, open the way. Where people are unsafe, give them protection and the courage to seek help. Teach us to listen with compassion and to offer support without judgement.

> Lord, in your mercy,
> All: Hear our prayers.

God of comfort and hope,

We remember those who are ill, those waiting for medical results, and those learning to live with conditions that may not improve. We pray for their families and those who care for them. We remember too those who grieve, particularly those for whom the loss of someone they love remains as painful today as when it first happened. In this season of remembering the saints, thank you for lives that have touched ours and for the Christian hope that death does not have the final word.

God of this parish,

We thank you for St George's and for the people who have sustained its life and worship over the years. Help us to honour their faithfulness not simply by remembering them, but by continuing the work they began. Make this a parish where people are welcomed, where the lonely find friendship, where those in difficulty find support, and where our faith is visible in the way we treat others. May we leave this church today more willing to serve than when we arrived.

> Lord, in your mercy,
> All: Hear our prayers.

Merciful Father,

Receive these prayers for the sake of your Son, our Saviour Jesus Christ, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever.

Amen.
